

Search for:

Search

Advanced Search

Showing postings 1 - 7 of 7 in the thread: Best milkshake in Willimantic....

Posting: Best milkshake in Willimantic...	Posting 1
Poster: William Brainard
Date: 25 August 2007 9:43 PM
I used to love the chocolate awful awful at Friendlies, later the fribble. Haven't had one in years. Now I get my black and white shake at Dairy Queen.
Posting: Re: Best milkshake in Willimantic...	Posting 2
Poster: John Boudreau
Date: 25 August 2007 10:59 PM
Woolworth's in the 60's weren't too shabby ...
Posting: Re: Best milkshake in Willimantic...	Posting 3
Poster: Nancy Harrington
Date: 26 August 2007 8:37 AM
When I worked at Mickey's Diner, I had customers who would come in for my Mocha shakes. Chocolate ice cream and coffee syrup. We only had chocolate, vanilla and strawberry ice cream, and chocolate, vanilla, strawberry and coffee syrup, so I'd take requests for customized combos.
Posting: Re: Best milkshake in Willimantic...	Posting 4
Poster: John Ferreri
Date: 26 August 2007 8:41 AM
I couldn't buy a "milkshake" anywhere when I lived on the North Shore in Massachusetts. I had to ask for a "frappe"!
What other generally accepted synonyms are there for this delightful treat?
Posting: Re: Best milkshake in Willimantic...	Posting 5
Poster: William Brainard
Date: 26 August 2007 11:44 AM
I remember when the Nixons were in the White House their daughter Julie who went to college in Mass. would go with her boyfriend David Eisenhower to the Friendly Ice Cream Shop for a "frappe".
Posting: Re: Best milkshake in Willimantic...	Posting 6
Poster: John Tormey
Date: 26 August 2007 1:26 PM
My wife says that in Providence they were called "cabinets."
Posting: Re: Best milkshake in Willimantic...	Posting 7
Poster: Dick Donovan
Date: 27 August 2007 12:36 AM
I liked the shakes and ice cream at the UConn Creamry--hope its still there!	