

Search for:Advanced Search

Showing postings 1 - 3 of 3 in the thread: Green grocery truck of the 50's.

Posting:	Green grocery truck of the 50's	Posting 1
Poster:	John B
Date:	20 May 2005 10:31 PM
There was a big green UPS-like truck (with a side window) that used to sell groceries , fruit , etc...all over Willi back when I was a little tyke in the 50's ...I believe the owner's first name was Phil , but I've forgotten his last name . I was on the phone with Mom on Mother's Day and neither of us could remember his name . Help !
Posting:	Re: Green grocery truck of the 50's	Posting 2
Poster:	JayJay
Date:	21 May 2005 3:53 PM
The name Philip Angelo jumps to mind. I can picture the truck and an always smiling face behind boxes of fresh fruits and produce. I think he started his route prior to the 50's.
Posting:	Re: Green grocery truck of the 50's	Posting 3
Poster:	John B
Date:	22 May 2005 5:50 PM
Thanks Jay Jay . I was thinking D'Angelo , so was close . Funny the things one never forgets about one's childhood . I'll never forget that truck .		