

Search for:

Advanced Search

Showing postings 1 - 7 of 7 in the thread: Ladies shop on Church Street?.

| | |
|---|-----------|
| Posting: Ladies shop on Church Street? | Posting 1 |
| Poster: William Brainard | |
| Date: 6 August 2006 7:23 PM | |
| It was very exclusive; the place where women would go for special occasion clothes. Kind of like Helen Barno's Coventry Shoppe in South Coventry off Route 31 on Depot Road. | |
| Posting: Re: Ladies shop on Church Street? | Posting 2 |
| Poster: Ada Kerachsky Albright | |
| Date: 7 August 2006 2:46 PM | |
| I can think of two small women's dress shops on Church St. One was Helene's--run by Helene Gurnak, mother of Bill Gurnak who was in my class at WHS. I can remember buying dresses there when was I was in high school. There was another on Church St. run by Helen's sister, whose name escapes me at the moment--was it Marie? | |
| Posting: Re: Ladies shop on Church Street? | Posting 3 |
| Poster: r d | |
| Date: 8 August 2006 10:55 AM | |
| My wife still comments on the quality of women's clothing at Tubridy's when is was on Main St. My mother worked for Joe for many years as a bookkeeper. When I was 7,8,9 I use to hate walking into that store. Does anyone remember Joe Covollie (sp) who use to work there as a stock clerk? Joe T really treated him well. | |
| Posting: Re: Ladies shop on Church Street? | Posting 4 |
| Poster: jim connell | |
| Date: 8 August 2006 12:30 AM | |
| rd Joe Cavolie's mother worked there also. Jim C | |
| Posting: Re: Ladies shop on Church Street? | Posting 5 |
| Poster: vince cerreto | |
| Date: 24 August 2006 7:37 PM | |
| Jim C. hows my cousin..Havent heard from you in a long time Vin Cerreto | |
| Posting: Re: Ladies shop on Church Street? | Posting 6 |
| Poster: Francis Sellars | |
| Date: 26 August 2006 8:39 PM | |
| rd, Was your fathers name jimmy? That address of 173 north St. rings a bell for me. Did your dad work for the willimantic public works Dept. If so your dad sponsored me when I joined the Elks on pleasant st. | |
| Posting: Re: Ladies shop on Church Street? | Posting 7 |
| Poster: r d | |
| Date: 28 August 2006 9:15 AM | |
| Hey Whitey! Yes, you are right on all accounts. He enjoyed team bowling on Friday nights. | |