

Search for:

Advanced Search

Showing postings 1 - 5 of 5 in the thread: Willimantic Armory car shows.

|   |           |
|---|-----------|
| Posting: Willimantic Armory car shows   | Posting 1 |
| Poster: William Brainard  |           |
| Date: 25 August 2006 2:57 AM  |           |
| Anyone remember them? My uncle bought his '66 Cutlass supreme from them; guess it would have been Wile Motors. My aunt won a free portable black and white television that night. They were kind of expensive back then and one didn't buy a tv everyday! |           |
| Posting: Re: Willimantic Armory car shows   | Posting 2 |
| Poster: Ada Kerachsky Albright  |           |
| Date: 25 August 2006 12:25 AM   |           |
| There were also "product shows" at the Armory. Local merchants would have booths and highlight some of the things they sold, sometimes had factory representatives come to give demonstrations, etc.  |           |
| Posting: Re: Willimantic Armory car shows   | Posting 3 |
| Poster: r d   |           |
| Date: 28 August 2006 3:13 PM  |           |
| Am I correct in understanding that the Armory is apt/condos? When did that happen? Who owned the Armory at the time it was used by the Army Reserve & Nat'l Guard   |           |
| Posting: Re: Willimantic Armory car shows   | Posting 4 |
| Poster: William Brainard  |           |
| Date: 29 August 2006 5:55 PM  |           |
| Yes. They are condos and quite pricey from what I've read. Guess some palms were, well we're all thinking it...   |           |
| Posting: Re: Willimantic Armory car shows   | Posting 5 |
| Poster: Ernie Eldridge  |           |
| Date: 31 August 2006 10:01 AM   |           |
| I have a great photo of a auto show, c 1918- 1920 held at Armory. Autos with names like Oakland and National. If I can get it up I will   |           |